

Example:

(..) - Each person has their own individual energies (based on the date of birth), matrix programs and descriptions and recommendations for them

Personal Qualities

A person can be in a positive and negative state. In a positive way, the person is doing well, he feels great. He lives easily, is satisfied and happy with everything. When a negative state appears, it means that a person has "lost his way." Negative situations or difficulties may arise in life. As soon as he returns to the "positive", the troubles end and life gets better.

Positive

(..) You know how to live wisely here and now, in a different way than others look at many things and events. Thanks to valuable and rich life experience, you are able to transform your worldview and learn important lessons from what happened. You are very energetic, capable of being a true leader and leading people. You have a kind heart, are most often driven by good ideas and are ready to help people. You have been given a valuable skill to work with large amounts of information and energies. You can become a real spiritual leader for many. They are able to start and discover something fundamentally new to others. Ready for self-development and complex transformations, both within themselves and in the surrounding society. You act boldly and consciously, and are always ready to take responsibility for what is happening.

(..) You have great power, which can be expressed in different ways: in physical capabilities, fortitude or the power of words, if you need to convince people. You are hardworking, constantly busy, and cannot sit still and do nothing. Love sports and can even choose a fitness-related field as a profession (instructor). You have a low pain sensitivity threshold, which makes you even more invulnerable. You are usually cheerful and live with an open mind. You are optimistic and ready to make new acquaintances. You can take a leadership position and take on difficult issues and responsibility for others. It is always easy and comfortable to spend time in your company. Determination and activity are your helpers in any endeavor.

In the negative

(..) You can't hold onto something too much, both spiritually and materially, otherwise life will take it away from you. Major changes and life-changing events are important for an important spiritual experience. If you do not develop, the world around you will force you to do this in a more drastic, unpredictable and sad way - through suffering and loss. Any manifestations of extremes are very bad for you: both an attempt to escape from problems and apathy, as well as excessive risk and adventurism. This invariably leads to chaos in life. You may experience outbursts of uncontrollable anger and aggression. It's bad if you get hung up on one thing and don't want to develop, change your point of view, expand your views and knowledge.

(..) It's bad if you start using your power to harm yourself and others. Starting behave aggressively, arrogantly, enter into conflicts. You exhaust your body with back-breaking workouts or workaholism at work. You don't know how to relax and get annoyed with others if they do something slowly or are inactive. You cannot adjust to the frequency of bursts of activity and decline in your internal energy, and you have poor control over your emotions and vitality. You don't know how to see the situation here and now and enjoy the present moment. In the race for results, you miss the best moments of the present. You control your loved ones too much and force them to live at your pace. Intolerant of the weaknesses of others.

In communication

(..) It is common for you to act as a judge or lawyer in a variety of disputes. Not It's amazing that you can choose a similar specialty for yourself. However, it is important to learn to listen to both sides without making hasty decisions or jumping to conclusions. Communicate more with different people and don't isolate yourself. Get information in a variety of ways, not just from books. Try not to isolate yourself from what you don't like or seems unfair. On the contrary, it is important to maintain contact in order to study the phenomenon or motives of a person in their underlying causes. Accept the world as it is. Try to maintain emotional stability and wise equanimity.

Personality Analysis (NEW)

Strong potential for easy, fast processing of information and true intellectuals who can inspire a love of knowledge in others. Such people are not just walking encyclopedias and information collectors. As a rule, they easily find use for their abilities and talents. It is inherent to use the acquired knowledge in practice and teach it to others, pushing them towards self-development and the discovery of talents and natural potential. Willingness to take part in an honest dispute. To prove that they are right, they demonstrate the ability to find convincing arguments. A serious shortcoming that such a person must learn to overcome in himself is a tendency towards conservatism. Any changes can cause anxiety and internal protest. Even when he mentally understands that changes are necessary for his own good, he agrees to them extremely reluctantly, reluctantly.

It is very important that such a person is loved and admired. Various tandems are often formed with people from creative professions. Such a person is characterized by a craving for stability, a secure life (which is usually achieved in adulthood). They love disputes and resolve all issues through intellectual competitions. It is important to always defend your rightness and position to the point of principle.

Suitable professions are in the judiciary, commerce and knowledge, science, teaching and mentoring, as well as communications and other fields. To achieve your goals, it is important to maintain a positive outlook on life and people, accepting everyone in the totality of all their character traits. You just need to be honest and adhere to high moral standards. You can't even lie to yourself. Otherwise, there is a high probability of serious losses and disappointments, to the point that such people, starting to lie, themselves become bait for scammers. Past life

(21-7-13) Karmic debt from a past life

This is a very rare and severe karmic debt. You have literally ruined many lives in the past. People died because of your theories, actions, decisions, books, and so on.

In real life

You are intensively working off your past debts to people. Most often this happens by choosing a special profession in which you help people on a daily basis, saving lives. This could be a doctor, an emergency rescue worker, or a firefighter. It is also possible to work off karma through some inventions or books, the creation of which you devote most of your life. Your work on yourself will continue throughout your life, and existence will not be easy. As long as you follow the right path, everything will happen as it should. But if you decide to stop this, you will destroy yourself. Your life can end at any moment in the most ridiculous way. If your child has this karma, you should not worry much about his comfort and help him in various areas. If possible, give him the opportunity to travel a lot and gain experience. Let him learn from his own mistakes. Otherwise, the whole family can be destroyed.

Lesson and recommendations

Develop yourself and help revive other souls. You need to realize that your life does not belong to you, but was created to help others. You exist as long as you fulfill your role and are in the right place at the right time. Otherwise, your existence may end at any moment. Appreciate the opportunities for redemption that fate provides you. Do not interfere in the development of the child and the life of loved ones, no matter how difficult it may be.

Sexuality

(...) You are a very bright personality, but at the same time vulnerable. Your self-esteem and opinion of yourself in sexually it is very easy to offend. Self-confidence is also usually feigned. You keep your desires to yourself and hide your fears, afraid of being misunderstood. But as soon as your partner makes a mistake, your true self comes out. They didn't appreciate you, they hurt you, they didn't support you - then you think that you have the right to be indifferent to your partner's wishes, to punish him, to behave as you please. In sexual terms, the moment of provocation to which you react vividly is very important. If everything happens according to the usual scenario, interest in your partner may completely disappear. But if you hear a refusal or teasing (for example, on the topic that everything will be bland and predictable anyway), a desire awakens in you to show the opposite. And you can become an excellent and tireless partner in bed. It is this moment that is important, which excites, turns on, and forces you to change something, show your deep capabilities and show strength. You are also turned on by extreme situations in which you seriously begin to become active. Therefore, you can practice role-playing games with your partner (even to the point of buying a superhero costume

- don't take this very seriously). What is important to you is provocation and the lack of response, the passivity of your partner in relation to your requests. Then you become very good at intimacy.
